About the course

The course aims at providing the female students of our college the opportunity to learn self defense and protecting oneself against any unsolicited incidents at home or in the outside world. Sashakti - Delhi Police Special Police Unit for Women and Children (SPUWAC) taught the students about the basics of self defense and the techniques involved with protecting oneself from different kinds of physical attacks on them. The course also helped the girls to build up stamina and taught them to speak up and express themselves whenever they felt the need for it. Delhi police personnel helped train the students and make them independent and confident in life to step up for anything.
